Board defends new position

Haliburton County students are the ones who will benefit from the work carried out through the newly-created position of Superintendent of Schools, board chairman Dave Villard said when confronted with concerns about the cost of the position.

It may be difficult to measure the benefits derived from this new position, but the superintendent will have an impact on the children's education, Villard said in response to a suggestion that more money is being spent on administration than the basic needs.

Haliburton Village resident Tim Casey approached the board at Tuesday's meeting, questioning where the board's priorities lie. "Where the rubber meets the road is educating the kids in the classroom," said Casey, referring to the decision to hire a Superintendent of Schools.

Casey raised a number of concerns in his address, including the salary to be paid to the superintendent, fundraising drives carried out by students and the increasing proportion of administrative staff when compared to enrolment figures.

"Why do you have to have so many people and pay so much money?" Casey asked. In terms of average annual income, he said Haliburton is considered a depressed area. Referring to the superintendent's salary which will range from $67,000 to $77,000, Casey said, "I just can't see how more can be piled on the top when the system at the bottom can't afford it."

Education Director Stuart Baker said the salaries paid to the board's administration are based on supply and demand. If Haliburton was not willing to pay a comparable wage, it would not attract the quality staff. As curriculum co-ordinator, Dale Robinson (who will be the new superintendent) has made improvements to education, said Baker. Yet more improvements will be made with this new position.

Not the biggest Just the best

The Haliburton County Development Corporation may not be the largest of its kind in MP Bill Scott's constituency, but after one year of operation it is the most successful.

In his brief comments to the corporation's directors last Wednesday at the Pine Ridge Resort, Scott lauded the development corporation for its track record. He referred to the fact that none of the businesses that took advantage of the corporation's loans failed to meet their payments.

Wednesday's annual meeting was a celebration of a successful first year for the corporation, and was held in conjunction with the opening of the Pine Ridge Resort. Despite inclement weather, about 25 guests were on hand for the celebration and to participate in a lively discussion with guest speaker Matt Fischer, General Manager of the Niagara Region Development Corporation.

Although Scott was in attendance, it was corporation manager Andy Campbell who relayed the recent good news from the federal government to the guests. The government has renewed the corporation's financing with a grant of $227,023.

The new funds will allow the Local Employment and Assistance Development (LEAD) corporation to convert to a Business Development Centre, which will facilitate larger loans under less stringent guidelines.

Campbell said the loan ceiling will be tripled from $25,000 to $75,000. And, where previously loans were only available to businesses that would be creating new jobs, they will now also be available to help maintain jobs.

Scott praised the corporation's directors for their aggressive work over the past year and congratulated the county as a whole for the progress it has made with the assistance of this program.

Arena reopens soon

The ice may be back in the Minden arena as early as this Wednesday as men have been working around the clock since the compressor and motor for the large ice making machine broke down more than a week ago.

Contacted Friday, Parks and Recreation Superintendent Brian Sisson said the equipment has been repaired and they were in the process of reinstalling it.

When the equipment broke down, the entire ice surface gradually melted and the area was closed early last week, Sisson says they will now be starting from scratch in preparing the ice.

Locals debate trade

While Canada's first ministers were wrestling with the contentious issue of free trade at an economic conference in Toronto, Haliburton county businessmen were having their own round of discussions at the Pine Ridge Resort last Wednesday night.

The evening, which was designed to celebrate the first successful year of operation for the Haliburton County Development Corporation, soon turned into a free trade debate as guests fired questions at speaker Matt Fischer.

Wednesday's celebration was held in conjunction with the corporation's annual meeting and the opening of the Pine Ridge Resort. Fischer, the General Manager of the Niagara Region Development Corporation, spoke on "Canadian Business in a Changing Environment". He also enticed the small gathering by presenting his favourable views of the proposed free trade agreement between Canada and the U.S.

The season's first serious snow storm caused many to cancel their plans to attend this meeting, but most of the 25 people on hand took up the opportunity to challenge his belief in the merits of free trade with Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott within earshot.

Although he was outnumbered in his stand on this issue, Fischer presented a good case for proponents of free trade. In his speech, he said the free trade agreement

Kids! and adults too. Enjoy the fun of a horse-drawn sleigh ride every Saturday in downtown Minden. Jump aboard the hay covered wagon and tour the village streets as the jingle of sleigh bells brings back visions of old time Christmas traditions.

Look for the team and wagon each Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. The rides are free.

One Little Candle

For years, the simple candle has served as a symbol for mankind. The single candle has been a beacon of hope, celebration and love. Particularly at this time of the year, the bright flame of the candle cuts through the darkness of the long winter nights creating a warm and inviting haven for all who share its glow.

Minden and area residents are invited to be a part of this Christmas tradition by placing a candle in their windows. Through a special purchase, single electric candles are available at downtown Minden stores. It is hoped that residents throughout the area will purchase one of these candles and display it prominently in a window during Christmas in the Village.

School buses overcrowded

Increased enrolment at Haliburton County schools has the board of education struggling to find a solution to its strained busing situation.

With about 2,000 students enrolled at schools in the county this year and 90 per cent of them boarding the buses each day, the school board is faced with the difficult tasks of bringing the busing capacities back in line with its established guidelines.

Commenting on a report from the board's transportation committee at last Tuesday's meeting, Business Administrator Jim Bradley noted that 16 buses are being loaded beyond the capacity set out by board policy. In some cases these guidelines are being exceeded by as many as 20 passengers.

The board's capacity guidelines have been set up to prevent students from standing in the aisles and are more stringent than those established by the Ministry of Education. However, in many cases the loads are nearing the capacities set out by the ministry, and on two routes this is being surpassed.

The worst situation is being faced on routes 20 and 21 coming to Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden. These buses are being loaded beyond legal capacity and Bradley urged that this situation be cleared up immediately.

However, solving the overloading problem will create a whole new problem. To reduce the number of students riding these buses, 13 students who live on Bethel Church Road would have to ride a different bus, which would have them boarding at 7:30 a.m. to arrive at school for 9 a.m. classes. Bradley said he hopes to find an alternative solution to this problem.

On this note, Education Director Stuart Baker commented that in many cases buses are arriving at the schools all too early. "They're putting young people through horrendous lives these days," he said. Buses are arriving at the schools 30 to 45 minutes before classes start, which adds that much more time to the students' day.

Baker said that bus schedules should be reviewed with the aim of getting to the schools 15 minutes before school starts. If, in the winter, they arrive five minutes late that would still be acceptable, he said.

In an effort to solve the problem of overcrowded buses, the board will be considering a number of options. These include amending the board's policy, or having one bus make a second run to pick up the in-town students. Bradley also noted that students shuffling from one bus to another for the ride home may also have to be stopped.

More teachers are needed to meet 'prep time' policy

Additional staff may be required for the Haliburton County Board of Education to meet its expanded policy regarding preparation time for elementary teachers, Education Director Stuart Baker reported at last Tuesday's board meeting.

If the board is to get closer to meeting its new policy, it will have to provide more supply teachers or hire a full-time teacher to fill in on others' classes, said Baker.

Baker was commenting on a recent survey of the schools which shows there are 21 teachers in the system who have less than 50 minutes of preparation time each week. A few months ago, the board adopted a policy to attempt to provide 200 minutes of preparation time for each full-time teacher.

The survey, which was completed prior to the most recent staff additions, indicates there are 10 teachers who have between 150 and 200 minutes of preparation time per week. Seven teachers have between 100 and 150 minutes, and five teachers have 50 to 100 minutes each week. The survey also showed that there are 29 teachers who have slightly more than 200 minutes of preparation time each week.

The board's policy of providing 200 minutes of preparation time is not a contractual agreement, but is a goal the board hopes to achieve. The survey was conducted to provide trustees with current data on the present situation.

A second policy limiting class sizes to 20 students is nearer to its goal. The survey showed there are eight classes in the board with fewer than 10 students, seven classes with fewer than 15, nine classes with fewer than 20, nine with fewer than 25, and 12 with between 25 and 30 students. There are no classes in the board with more than 30 students in them.

Trustees should ready for child care

A provincial initiative to provide childcare for school-aged children at Ontario schools is an issue that trustees should be preparing themselves for, Education Director Stuart Baker commented at Tuesday's meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education.

Reporting on a recent meeting of the Central Ontario Regional Educational Council, Baker told trustees that this issue will not affect Haliburton for some time, but it is something the trustees should be aware of.

The provincial government hopes to provide child-care facilities at schools across the province to accommodate kindergarten students on their off days. Baker said the initial plan is to provide the additional space at new schools, and later to provide facilities at existing schools.

Commenting on the plan, he said there are definitely some problems that need to be ironed out. According to Baker, each school will be allowed one room, capable of accommodating 24 children, for this purpose. If there are more than 24 kindergarten students at that school the board could be faced with the problem of deciding which children are allowed to take advantage of the service.

Another problem that Baker foresees with this involves busing. He asked who would pay for the busing, noting that Haliburton's school buses are already running near capacity.

The child-care program would fall under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of Community and Social Services and would be run by a non-profit operator out of the school building, said Baker.

He urged trustees to raise this topic for discussion at any trustee association functions they are attending.

Shop your hometown first

With a nice white blanket of snow now covering the ground and December finally upon us, Christmas shopping will soon be shifting into high gear.

The seasonal decorations brighten the storefronts on our downtown streets and the local merchants have stocked their shelves with all sorts of gifts to suit just about everyone.

Unfortunately, these final few weeks before Christmas are a time when many take their savings and drive off to the city to fill their shopping list.

While we realize there are certain items that cannot be found in Haliburton County we know the largest part of anyone's shopping list can and should be filled here.

It makes perfect sense to shop in your home town. In addition to the excellent selection of goods to be found here, every time we make a purchase we are supporting our local economy.

Area merchants, who pay taxes that help support local services, and who employ our neighbours, children and friends, rely to a great extent on Christmas sales for their livelihood.

We're not saying that residents should restrict their shopping only to their home town. What we are saying is visit the local stores first. You will likely be surprised at how much shopping you can get done without ever leaving your home town.

Program meets needs

by John Eakins MPP

Support for the disabled and physically challenged is a concern I have felt strongly about for some time. When I was Minister of Tourism and Recreation, the Ministry's programs reflected our commitment to addressing the needs of the disabled.

Tourist operators seeking financial assistance had to ensure that their new expanded facilities would include accommodation for the disabled. Similarly, funding for recreational facilities required that the building be accessible to the physically challenged.

With this in mind, I am pleased to announce that two of my colleagues have introduced a new program called The Access Fund.

Acid rain report

The following report on precipitation is based on information gathered at the Ministry of Environment Acid Rain Testing Station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

There were 3 precipitation events during the period November 15 - 21:

November 17: 8 mm rain, pH 4.2 from South and North Carolina, West Virginia, Ohio and southern Ontario.

November 18: 6 mm mixed rain and snow, pH 4.8 from Illinois and Michigan.

November 19: 7 mm mixed rain and snow, pH 4.7 from Wisconsin and Michigan.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Editor:

I have had it - the final blow has been struck!

I realize when dealing with the government a grain of salt is always advisable.

I was, and am, disgusted:

That Ontario deems it appropriate to spend fifty-plus million dollars on a stadium, while they (the government) close hospitals, have untold housing shortages, not just in the south, the north is in need as well;

That the federal government forgives millions of dollars (tax) to commonwealth countries (in name only) that are clearly socialist oriented, and do not for one second observe any type of negative free speech, in other words repressed nations;

That while our grain silos are filled to overflowing, politicians send millions of dollars to third world countries, which I am sure they cannot account for at least 50% of. Why not send the subsidized grain?

That our politicians on every level spend so much on travel $100,000 in one case, $65,000 in another;

That politicians require grandiose offices in order to function. Oh! Just a couple of million dollars for the Toronto City Hall offices alone;

That the tax structure as it exists, stinks - and with the thought of taxing food even more repugnant;

That the Auditor General for Ontario just listed some abuses of tax money that would give any corporate president a coronary condition.

But the straw that broke the camel's back is the editorship and banning of certain literary works. Some go back thousands of years. If this bill passes, they will most certainly have to remove several verses from the Bible.

I do not favour pornography, yet I have to question myself. Am I perfect enough to cast with certainty what is considered acceptable reading and what is not?

The bubble heads in Ottawa had better read and reread our Constitution again.

Then write on the black board 100 times "This nation is built on freedoms", freedom of thought, expression, speech and the most valuable of all freedom of the printed word - be it newspapers, magazines or books.

A closing thought. Some libraries in Ontario are considering closing for one half day in protest. I believe if they do this, Waterloo is just around the corner!

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Another year ending. Time to choose a new calendar. There are calendars now to cater to every interest. But, though the illustrations may be different, a calendar is a calendar.

The Conservation Calendar produced by The Federation of Ontario Naturalists' is not just another calendar. Each month of the 11" x 28" calendar fairly bursts with bits of natural history information. And the pages are alive with creatures, insects, birds, flowers, animal tracks and even animal scat.

From the cover a great gray owl stares out benignly while a scaup duck explodes from somewhere near his head; a cottontail races madly across the page leaping over an assortment of magical-looking fungi. Motionless in a clump of marsh grass, an American Bittern waits, bill thrust skyward.

Although the calendar is aimed at children between the ages of 9-15, there is so much information that any interested adult will learn from it. Do all adult butterflies die in the fall? What unpleasant insect is a solicitous parent? Why are leaves sometimes rolled like a cigar? What bird is called a "thunder pump"?

The mourning cloak butterfly hibernates as an adult, often emerging while there is still snow on the ground during a mild spell the end of February or the beginning of March. And it is the repulsive-looking European earwig which tends its eggs so carefully. The rest of the answers are in the calendar.

The calendar is arranged so that the facing page above the calendar contains a suggested nature activity. Although these are designed for the young, nature lovers of all ages should enjoy them. One month the activity sheet deals with a plant which is really a combination of two plants, an alga and a fungus. For those who like to try making things, another month includes instructions for making a bathhouse.

Along with all the particular bits of interesting natural history, there is the sense of seasons unfolding. Each month brings something different and interesting to investigate. In June, make a sweep net for catching insects to examine more closely. In November gather decorative seed heads like teasel and Queen Anne's Lace to add to dried flower arrangements.

The writing is easy and natural, but never condescending. Any child, or for that matter any adult, reading the calendar will learn new facts with pleasure. This is partly because the commentary is embellished with pen and ink drawings which are at the same time scientifically correct and yet whimsical. Nothing escapes the notice of the artist including the detail on a cicada's wing or the almost twitching whiskers of the meadow vole.

Here is the perfect Christmas gift for any interested child. The calendar is one way the FON, a non-profit organization dedicated to protecting our natural heritage can sustain itself while it educates. The calendar is $14.00 including tax, postage and handling. If you would like to order one, send your money to The Federation of Ontario Naturalists, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario, M3B 2W8. Or you may place a phone order by calling (416) 449-2554.

'The world to me'

library corner

by Joel Levis

"My Library Card Means the world to me. When I say 'world', I mean that it opens up the world to my fingertips. I can travel to different countries by taking out books from my library. Like a key opens a door, my library card opens the door to the whole world."

With this entry, Diane Cowen, of Stanhope was selected as the winner of the Haliburton County Public Library "Your Card is The Key" contest which was held during Library Week.

Diane began her library experience before she even went to school when her mother would take her to the library in Minden. When the new branch in Stanhope opened, she began to visit that branch because it was closer and even now has library memberships in three different branches of the system.

An avid reader, Diane prefers mysteries, biographies and lighter reading although she admits that her interests have changed over the years. She finds the mixture of materials at the Stanhope branch to be acceptable and is not hesitant to support the library concept as being a good thing for the community.

As winner of the county contest, she is eligible to select up to $30 of new books of her choice. And as a good reader, she already has.

The contest was held at two levels. First, each branch was eligible to have one winner, the prize being a subscription to the magazine of their choice. At the second level, each of these winners was eligible for the grand prize of books, won by Diane.

Branch winners included: William Brown, Highland Grove; Jodi Nixon, Cardiff; Jodi Kent, Minden; Nathan Nixon, Dwight; Tasha Gill, Gooderham; and Chad Bowers, Wilberforce.

Our congratulations to the winners. And remember, there's something for everyone at the Haliburton County Public Library as more and more are discovering day after day.

Hope for future

by Bill Scott, M.P.

On November 11th and on the Sunday preceding it, I had the honour of attending Remembrance Day ceremonies in Victoria - Haliburton. While memorials to our fallen friends and relatives are sad by nature, the act of remembering brings hope for the future, hope that we will learn by their sacrifices and inspiration to work to prevent this from happening again.

All would agree that those we honoured on November 11th and those in attendance at the various ceremonies are solid Canadian citizens. Thus it was quite fitting that on that same day, the Hon. David Crombie, Secretary of State, announced a new citizenship award to recognize and honour exemplary citizenship. The award consists of a certificate of honour and a maple leaf cluster lapel pin.

Beginning in April 1988, the Citation for Citizenship will be presented during National Citizenship Week to individual Canadians and to businesses and community organizations whose volunteer activities embody and affirm the principles that characterize Canadian citizenship. The awards will be given in these categories for the promotion of: equality, diversity and community. Candidates, whether individuals or organizations, must have voluntarily given of their time and talents to advance, through specific activities, these three principles.

Individuals, business groups and community organizations must be nominated either by three separate individuals (one nominator acting as a contact person and two co-sponsors not related to the candidate), or by a national, provincial or community organization. In making nominations, it is suggested you describe, as appropriate, the nominee's:

- volunteer activities and their duration;
- the level of responsibility and leadership within volunteer groups (if an individual) or the organization's relation to other similar groups;
- the innovative quality of the achievements;
- the results of the activities and where they can be documented or verified;
- the impact of the activities;

Video dog is perfect pet

Trivia question: name the inventor of the transistor.

Naw, I don't know either. Whoever it was, he or she is certainly not a household name. Which is odd when you think about it, because the transistor is a gizmo that revolutionized all our lives. I remember portable radios before the transistor. They were "portable" alright - providing you had access to a block and tackle. They were about the size of a Samsonite suitcase, weighed enough to pull your arm out of its socket and put out a sound that seemed to be coming from a tin silo weathering a bad hailstorm.

The other day in my local Radio Shack I saw an AM radio the size and thickness of a credit card.

"Does that really work?" I asked the clerk. He looked at me like I'd just come down from my shack in the Ozarks for my yearly shopping trip. Of course it works. Where have I been?

I think in a couple of decades we'll be looking back at another invention, wondering why more fuss wasn't made of it at the time - the video cassette recorder. If I'd said the letters VCR fifteen years ago, nobody would have known what I was talking about. Today they're commonplace.

Actually, the first practical videotape recording device was assembled in California way back in 1956, but that machine was temperamental, big as a bus and worth just slightly less than Johnny Carsons combined alimony payments. It wasn't until the early 80's that the size and price of VCR's shrivelled down small enough to worm their way into umpteen million living rooms around the globe.

But it hasn't just been a hardware revolution with the VCR's. There's been an amazing change in the software as well. When they first came out, VCR's were a good way to watch movies in your own home, or to tape programs off your TV for later enjoyment. Now, a whole line of specialty videotapes are available.

A trip to my local Video Shop reveals that for CR owners who are tired of watching The Maltese Falcon or Beach Blanket Bingo there's a whole host of brand new options. Video Fireplace for instance. Ninety minutes of burning logs reproduced on your TV screen in smouldering colour. Are you a big fan of our feathered friends? Then you'll want to sign out Tropical Birds, a tape that features toucans and cockatoos, macaws and parakeets, all chirping and flapping and preening for the camera. Also available: Hawaii Experience - a cassette devoted to the surf and sand and swaying grass skirts of those splendid isles. And how could we forget Sunset TV, with which you get to watch Old Sol sink in the west for 30 glorious minutes. (For early birds, Sunrise TV is up for rental too - though you could probably save yourself a couple of bucks by just renting one or the other and using your Rewind button).

Don't go away - this gets sillier. It is now possible to rent or buy a tape called Rowing Machine Companion, so that when you don't feel like climbing into your dryland rowing machine, you can punch it up on your TV and watch a professional skim across a lake.

Then there's my hands-down favourite - Video Dog. It is just what it sounds like - a videotape of a dog. A dog that stretches, sleeps, barks, sits up and scratches for fleas. Except that there are no fleas. Or cans of smelly food or gnawing on the furniture or unpleasant surprises on the broadloom.

Video Dog, says the bumpf on the Video Dog cassette cover, "is the perfect pet. When you get tired of him, you just turn him off."

There are a couple of Made-In-Canada entries in the Mood Video field as well - one is called Solitude: Loon Country by Canoe. It takes us paddling through the placid lakes and rivers of Muskoka country - perfect for Nature Romantics who don't want to get their feet wet - and finally there is my least favourite contender. Quintessentially Canadian. Unmistakably stupid. It is called with, brutal

Free trade is 'remarkable opportunity'

"should be viewed as a remarkable opportunity for Canadian business, and not as a threat to our continued existence."

Much of the concern expressed by free trade opponents involves the automotive and agriculture industries, both of which are significant sectors of the economy in Fischer's home of St. Catharines. However, Fischer downplayed the perceived threat to these sectors.

"There is no reason to believe that the prosperity of the automotive industry would decline under the proposed agreement," he said. The requirement for 60 per cent Canadian content outlined in the Auto Pact would protect less than one third of the current automotive production in Ontario, he said. With production costs which he says are 35 per cent lower than can be found in eight Great Lakes States and 13 per cent lower than in the "sunbelt states", the auto industry is producing three times the levels needed to meet this requirement.

Because of the declining importance of the agricultural industry in this province, losses in agriculture created by a free trade deal would have only a minor effect on Ontario's economy. "Although historically important, to the Ontario economy, agriculture now accounts for less than three per cent of the jobs in this province," said Fischer.

Echoing Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, Fischer called the free trade agreement a "win win" arrangement. "Economic history has consistently demonstrated that whenever countries have mutually taken steps to improve relationships through reduction of trade barriers, they have both prospered."

Despite his efforts, Fischer's argument did little to bring most of the people at the gathering on side with the Conservative government's initiative. When questions were invited at the end of his presentation, it was clear that the majority of people in the room stood firm in their opposition to a free trade deal.

Playground equipment proposed

New playground equipment proposed for Archie Stouffer Elementary School will not present a liability problem, Business Administrator Jim Bradley reported to the Haliburton County Board of Education at its meeting last Tuesday.

As long as the new equipment is installed by the supplier, it will be fully covered under the board's present insurance policy, said Bradley.

At a previous meeting the Home and School Association offered to provide about $5,000 worth of equipment for the school playground. At that time, the board gave tentative approval to the proposal and asked Bradley to look into the liability implications.

At Tuesday's meeting Bradley said it is "highly recommended that (the equipment) be installed by the supplier."

The Home and School Association in Dorset has also offered to provide playground equipment at Irwin Public School. Bradley said this would be $400 to $500 worth of equipment to be built by members of the Home and School Association.

Kirkwood issues licences to generations of betrothed

For more than a quarter of a century, Haliburton County residents have come to know Laura Kirkwood as the person to see when they are planning to be married. Since 1962, Kirkwood has been the issuer of marriage licences for the county, and today marks her last day on the job.

"I don't think I'll ever retire," said Kirkwood during a conversation in her small office off the entranceway to her home in Minden, "but I will stop issuing marriage licences." With the children of those she issued her first marriage licences to now applying for licences of their own, Kirkwood feels "it's time to pass on the torch."

On August 6, 1962, Kirkwood issued her first marriage licence to Joe Cox and Freda Pilon. "The interesting thing is," she says, "I issued their son and his fiance their marriage licence this year."

Over the years, Kirkwood says she has come across many interesting and humorous situations through her work. "It's an interesting job and it's serving your community, which I have always believed in." She says one of the great advantages of the job is that she gets to meet just about everyone in the area.

While this is not a full-time job, Kirkwood says she has had to be very flexible with her hours of business. She says she has had couples ringing the doorbell at eight o'clock in the morning on weekdays and weekends to get their licences. She even recalls one couple arriving just before midnight from Toronto in order to get their licence before the deadline.

She explains that couples must be issued a marriage licence at least three days before the wedding. This couple arrived at her house just 15 minutes before the deadline and were able to be married on the day they had planned for the occasion.

As a licence issuer, Kirkwood worked for the Registrar General. However, "the thing that always makes me smile is this," she says pointing to the insignia on a booklet on her desk. "Marriage licence issuers come under the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations. I don't know what you'd be consuming," she jokes.

One of the less encouraging aspects of her job was watching the increasing number of marriages that end in divorce. "I would think that divorce is definitely on the rise," she says noting that many people have been issued a second or third marriage licence.

Kirkwood said she has seen young couples come into her office at various times and she knew the odds were against them. She said a couple in their teens with no financial backing would come in and "I could see they were off on the wrong foot right from the start. However, it's not my job to say no."

Many of these people do remarry, though, and Kirkwood feels they are often much better prepared for the commitment the second time around. If they go through a divorce and remarry, they have it all behind them and in many cases it is much better, she says.

For the sake of confidentiality and flexibility in hours, Kirkwood would like to see marriage licences continue to be issued from somebody's home. However, this is a decision that will be made by Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council when they choose the person who will accept the torch from Kirkwood.

Liberals challenge free trade issue

submitted

More than 30 members of the Haliburton County Liberal Association met on November 18 at the West Guilford Community Centre for their annual meeting and election of officers.

Among the several dignitaries to attend the meeting was John Eakins, Minister of Municipal Affairs and MPP for Victoria - Haliburton. Eakins took the opportunity to again express his appreciation to association members for their efforts during the provincial election campaign.

He spoke to the membership regarding his new obligations as Minister of Municipal Affairs and detailed a hectic schedule for the weeks and months ahead.

Bruce Glass, former Federal Liberal candidate in Victoria - Haliburton, also addressed the meeting by issuing a challenge to the federal Conservatives over what he perceives as the sacrifice of Ontario to the free trade initiative.

Glass characterized the free trade agreement as "a poor deal", and described some of the areas in which the deal impacts on Ontario jobs. He also noted the "upbeat attitude" of the federal Liberal party following consistently strong showings in the polls.

Many of the speakers, including Provincial Riding Association President

Ivan Reynolds, paid tribute to the contribution of past executive members Joan Sawyer and Linda Salvatori. Sawyer, who as past president, and Salvatori who was the association's secretary - treasurer, were instrumental in the establishment of the Haliburton branch of the party organization.

Both Ivan Reynolds and

Bruce Glass were praised for their continuing commitment to the Haliburton Liberal Association and their strong support for area initiatives undertaken by the association.

The new executive committee of the Haliburton County Liberal Association are: president, Ernest Hills; vice-president, Ray Selbie; secretary-treasurer, Evelyn Fleming. Directors on the committee include, Helen Leighton, Verne Graham, Harold Herlihey, Mike Wedmann, Denise Fitzgerald, Glenna Beckham, Helen Burk, Earl Johnston, Lynn Craigmyle, Irene Roberts, Gerald Bain and Myles

Roberts.

The meeting was characterized by an open format for discussion of current issues at all political levels, and was dominated by concerns regarding the impact of the free trade agreement.

Nesbitt's Belgians among best on continent

Within the boundaries of Haliburton County, Sinclair Nesbitt is well known as the Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships. But across North America he is better known for the prize Belgian horses that are consistently produced from his stables.

For 30 years, Nesbitt has been gaining recognition for his Misty River Farm by showing his horses and winning ribbons at "the granddaddy of them all in North America," the Royal Winter Fair. And again this year, he returned from the Royal with some very impressive results that will heighten his image in the world of horsemanship as well as the image of the Haliburton Highlands.

Nesbitt's four-year-old Belgian mare, Misty River Connie, was named the Reserve Senior and Reserve Mare Grand Champion at this year's Royal. He also collected praise for his one-year-old colt, Misty River Constable, which was named Junior Champion and Reserve Grand Champion.

While Nesbitt says the prize money earned from his showings at Royal barely pay the costs, the recognition his horses receive here is vital. Slightly off the beaten track, Minden is an unlikely location to find some of the best Belgian horses on the continent. For this reason, it is important that he continues to earn the recognition through solid showings at the Royal.

"It's a prestige thing," says Nesbitt. "That's where you want to show if you want to sell," he said referring to the Royal.

And after 30 years of showing his horses at this prestigious event, Nesbitt says there are champion Belgians all across North America that were born and raised at his Misty River Farm.

A number of years ago he sold one of his mares that had shown well at that year's Royal. Soon after that, the mare was resold for about $15,000, which was the highest price ever paid for a Belgian in North America. With the impressive results at this year's Royal, Nesbitt expects he will "get an ungodly amount of chances to sell" some of his horses.

With 400 Belgians competing in the breeding class at the Royal, Nesbitt's results demonstrate that the quality of the line originating from Misty River Farm can not be questioned. There were 17 other Belgians in Misty River Connie's class and 21 others in 'Constable's' class.

While Nesbitt says breeding is the key to success at the Royal, the preparation and handling of the horses also plays an important part in impressing the judges. To this end, Nesbitt's grandchildren Scott, Wyatt and Jason are all part of the winning team. Scott won first prize for showmanship at the Royal, while Wyatt earned a third and Jason took fifth.

Sinclair Nesbitt's four year old Belgian mare Misty River Connie was in prizewinning form for this photograph a week ago Sunday after returning from the Royal Winter Fair. She was named Reserve Senior and Reserve Mare Grand Champion.

Rockcliffe goaltender Doug Pearson deflects a shot off the stick of Hartwick's Dave Hartwick during a fast-paced game at the Minden arena last Monday night. Hartwick scored seven times in this game to lead his team to an 11-7 win, their third in a row.

Hartwick continues climb

Hartwick Construction has moved up another notch in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey standings with their third consecutive win at the Minden arena last Monday night.

Hartwick's 11 - 7 win over the Rockcliffe places these two teams in a tie for second place with records of three wins and three losses.

Halls and The Times continue to share the lead in the standings as they both downed their opponents to up their records to five wins and one loss.

After getting off to a slow start in the league, Hartwick has been climbing in the standings over the last three weeks. Their winning streak began on November 9 when they dealt The Times their first defeat of the season. November 16 they edged Vasey, and last Monday they made it three in a row by upsetting the second-place Rockcliffe squad.

Hartwick 11, Rockcliffe 7

Dave Hartwick was largely responsible for Hartwick's win as he scored 7 of the 11 goals. Larry Sawyer scored three times while Rick Salmon added one to the winning effort.

Despite the final score, this was a very close game. At the end of the first period, it was tied 2 - 2. And after two periods Hartwick had a narrow 6 - 5 lead over their opponents.

Al Cunningham led the scoring for the Rockcliffe with four goals while Bernie Upton added two and Merv Mintz scored once.

Times 9, Home 4

The Times held onto their share of first place with a third-period rally to defeat Home Hardware 9 - 4.

Home Hardware took an early 2 - 0 lead in the first period, but The Times outscored their opponents in the second to even the score at 4 - 4 going into the final frame. Five unanswered goals in the third gave The Times their fifth win of the season while Home accepted their fifth loss.

Sid MacKeigan led The Times with three goals while Andy Campbell notched two. Singles were scored by John McAdam, Neil Hutchinson, and Frazer Rogers.

Home Hardware's goals

were scored by Scott Hamilton, Paul Walker, Gary Nelson and Ben Manuge.

Halls 7, Vasey 5

Halls also came up big in the last period to defeat Vasey and maintain their share of the league's lead.

Vasey was spoiling for an upset as they went out in front 2 - 1 in the first period and held a 5 - 2 lead after two. However, Halls, who lost their only game this season by default, rallied with five goals in the final frame to earn the 7 - 5 win.

Tom Haley and Barry Boice each scored twice in the winning effort. Dave Rogers, Greg Anderson and Irwin Asbell each scored once for Halls.

Vasey's goals were scored by Jeff Campbell, Ed Gibbons, Norm Barry, Darryl Ward and Louis Reynolds.

Lutterworth council briefs

The following are items discussed at the November 19 meeting of Lutterworth Township Council:

Conveyance

Council gave its approval in principal to accept a conveyance of a 66-foot roadway along the present route of Davis Lake Road from Don Gillespie to the Township. Council's approval of this conveyance is subject to the receipt of a survey of the property and legal description. The property is located on Part Lot 14, Concession 6.

Shoreline closure

Despite hearing two objections on the matter, council passed a bylaw to stop up, close and convey the 66-foot original shoreline road allowance at the end of the peninsula separating Moore's Lake from East Moore's Lake.

In passing the bylaw, council felt that objections received from Charles Gerdischke and Herman Gerdischke did not apply to the proposed shoreline closure. Council felt that the objections pertained more directly to a proposed severance of the adjoining property.

Bylaw Enforcement Officer

Lutterworth Township's new Bylaw Enforcement officer Ernie Roylance will be wearing numerous hats in his work for the township.

Council passed resolutions appointing Roylance to the positions of Bylaw Enforcement Officer, Chief Building Inspector, Pound Keeper and Chief Fire Warden. Roylance replaces Doug Hirstwood in this permanent part-time position.

Appointment

Council passed a resolution appointing James McMahon to represent the township on the Haliburton County Development Corporation.

Board defends superintendent

In response to concerns that the board is becoming top heavy with administration, Baker noted that Ministry of Education directives continue to pile on new responsibilities. He drew Casey's attention to two such directives that the board had to address earlier in the meeting.

Baker said trustees and taxpayers did not ask for these new responsibilities, but the ministry and educators decided they are necessary to deal with special needs. He also noted that parents in the lower income bracket often come to the board asking that these services not be cut back.

Another complaint raised by Casey concerned a fundraising effort being staged by students at J.D. Hodgson school. He said students are trying to raise money for a microwave oven, while teachers have one in the staff room. He said he does not mind fundraising for extracurricular activities, but students should not have to "peddle junk" to raise money for things they need in the class.

It was noted that the microwave used in the staff lounge was paid for by the teachers, and there is money in the budget for an oven for the home economics class.

Baker said the guidelines for students' fundraising efforts are quite loose, and are generally the responsibility of the school principal. He said each school normally has one main drive per year and much of the money raised helps those whose parents can not afford to participate in extracurricular activities.

Staanworth Court news

Lest We Forget, — that November 11 is the time to remember with pride and gratitude the sacrifice given by those Canadian men and women who left homes, comfort, and security, and died to make our World a more tolerable place to live in.

We wish to welcome our new residents, Siiri and John Mielonen, and hope they will enjoy our lovely apartments.

A very successful November meeting was held in our Lounge room. Our president, Holly, named Jean Marsh as Social Convenor, and Doris and Mel Foster to look after the movies held each Sunday evening. We thank their daughter for sharing their movies with us prior to this meeting.

Florence Lindsay recently returned from a visit with her family in Toronto. She is also recovering from a bad accident in which she broke her arm. We are glad to see her well again.

While speaking of accidents, we learn that Albert Stata rolled his car and was very lucky to escape a more serious result as the car was a write-off. Trust you are feeling better by now, Albert. (Mary and Albert and just left us for their new home in Kinmount.)

Those of our residents who are gardeners wish to thank the Minden Council, S. Nesbitt, and C. Cameron for the loads of soil added to their garden for another year.

In a science class Clem was asked where insects went in the winter. Sleepily Clem answered - "Search me!"

Corinne Arsenault, Margaret Horsley and Eleanor Pye attended the luncheon and meeting of Haliburton County Seniors at PineStone Inn. The guest speaker, Marjorie Mann, held her audience captive, and laughing as she told her jokes to explain her topic, Laughter Does Matter. Marjorie explained her ideas of jogging. She suggested that she was more for Internal jogging, such as - up-down, up-down, up-down, up-down, now try the other eye.

"May I commend humour to you," she said as she closed her remarks to her Home Support audience.

Sincere birthday wishes go to our November birthday lady, namely Ivy Angliss. May you enjoy many more pleasant birthdays.

Those on the sick list this month were Vera Howe, Eleanor Pye, and Edna Smith. Get well soon dear folks.

We are glad to see George Davidson back from Northwestern Hospital, in Toronto where he was undergoing severe tests. Apparently the results are very encouraging. We are happy for you and Lillian, George.

A very tasty supper was enjoyed by our residents last week. It was a roast beef supper with vegetables, gravy (good), and jellied salads. Birthday cake was served for our birthday folks, namely Ivy Angliss, (who could not attend to illness), get well soon Ivy, and Mabel Trodd whose day was to be later, but was leaving before. Three tables of euchre were played after. Much credit goes to Melissa and Janet, our food convenors. It was a lovely meal.

Two little boys were trying to waken their Daddy who was sleeping soundly. Finally Tommy opened one of his eyelids and said, "He should talk to us. He's still in there."

We wish Corinne a speedy recovery from the flu.

Well, due to the storm, the 25th, our Bake Sale was not the big success we had hoped for, but Holly and her executive are quite satisfied with the sales herein, and wish to thank all who helped in any way.

Now, dear folks, Christmas will soon be with us. Would that we could all vision a world where LOVE is practised every day; the wise advice given by that wee child whose birthday we would celebrate.

Have a blessed Christmas one and all.

M.H.

ATTENTION

Due to the overwhelming response to our Muscular Dystrophy Christmas Bear, we apologize that sufficient stock can not be obtained for our upcoming "gift book" flyer.

Farewell

With the printing of these words
I cleanse myself of you
The dreams, the hopes have long since gone
For I no longer shed the tears
The hate that grew and knew no bounds
This tale shall wash away
The final peace - it will be mine
My pride will see me through
My name, I told you once
Though you try, you won't forget
But yours my dear I put from mind
For I find it meaningless
I cannot ever take the chance
A careful love was given
A future that shone bright with hope
By a fools gold I was driven
The glitter did end in the autumn mist
And was plain for all to see
Your children left for me to rear
With love - a job I did unbidden
The debts of yours I paid, unknowing
You spent your time - with another
Your home became a stranger then
A shopping place at best
Surely you realize now my dear
That you are no better than your past
For low you spoke of her each time
That's how I think of you
I know this note, you'll not forgive
But nor have I forgiven
Retribution has now been paid
I say farewell to thee
To any others that take a chance
A word of warning please
Fools gold can draw you in
So take another glance
For mine is but a memory now
And soon I hope ... forgotten.

Hello Readers! Winter is here and there is nothing we can do about it but wait for the coming of spring.

Our Service Sunday evening was by Rev. and Mrs. Burgess and Tuesday morning by Father George Elliott of Minden.

Thursday's afternoon tea was brought in by the Rug Hookers, composed of ladies from Haliburton, Maple Lake and Minden. It was lovely and enjoyed by everyone present. We will be glad to have them again.

Sorry to report Mrs. Myles was taken to hospital again.

We had Murray Davis's group entertain us on Tuesday night and Bill Payne and helpers Friday night. They were enjoyed by everyone very much.

Winnie Barnum had her grandson Rick to call on her Saturday.

Mrs. Hunter had a son in to see her also. We are glad to see Lola Prentice home from the hospital.

Dora Dawson had friends call on her Sunday morning. Jean Taylor was out with her niece for lunch today. Mr. Gauthier was out with his daughter for the afternoon and dinner today (Sunday).

Mr. & Mrs. Roy Cameron of Peterborough came to take their sister Winnie Barnum to dinner and on to Haliburton, West Guilford, Minden and home.

Sorry to report Edith Welch is also in hospital.

The movies Monday night were "Christmas Lace" and "Dead End Trail".

I was pleased to have Anna Gordon, Jean Hewitt and Marion McDonald call on me Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday night we had a nice surprise: the Clements from St. Anthony Church in Haliburton, Norman Clement on piano, Connie on guitar and Mike Biagi on the mouthorgan. It was lovely and we certainly enjoyed it all very much. Mrs. Clement made a charming MC. We hope they will come again.

Sorry to report that Jean Taylor fell today and broke her wrist.

All till next week.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: What did one penny say to the other one?

A: It would make more cents (sense) if we were together.

Q: What must one do to have soft hands?

A: Nothing.

Q: What did one flea say to the other?

A: Will we walk or take a dog?

Q: What did the bird say when his cage broke?

A: Cheep, cheep.

Hi there! Here we are again with the real news from H.H.S.S.

The yearbooks still aren't here! Through an extensive undercover study, we found out that the final proofs were sent in about 2 weeks ago - which means? Cross your fingers and hope for Christmas.

In sports action, the ping-pong pyramid has begun in the main foyer, with fast-paced ping-pong at its best. This sport is also available for recreation, if you'd like to be involved. Also, curling has started on Wednesday nights, and the volleyball tryouts commenced one week ago today.

In weather last week, Wednesday's snow storm brought many cancellations.

Drama, curling, aerobics, driver's ed., and the Redmen Hockey game scheduled for that night, were either postponed or rescheduled. One postponement may have given some people relief though - Parent interviews will now be held this Wednesday, December 2, instead of November 25. This reminder is mainly for parents, if you son or daughter has "forgotten" to tell you about the new interview date.

On the music and entertainment scene, grade 9 band has now begun. In an interview with Mr. Vaughan, he told us that a lot of people who signed up haven't been to practice. He needs you there. So does the band, so participate and get involved - Tuesdays at 12:10.

As usual, the stage and concert bands are having regular practices. They would like to thank all of the people who supported them in their 2 fundraising

Did you know?

The Association of Community Information Centres in Ontario (ACICO) announces the start of an automated network of community information centres in Ontario. The network will link all 71 centres, enabling them to share data, improve the speed and accuracy of updating information, and improve the service to the public.

The ACICO has received funding from the Ontario Trillium Foundation for a Pilot Project, to develop a prototype system at the Community Information Centre of Hamilton - Wentworth and Information Dundas, a program of Dundas Community Services. Olivetti Canada Limited has been awarded the contract for the development of the prototype.

The system will be used primarily to automate the database management, on-line retrieval and publication production functions of the two centres. Data will be exchanged electronically between the centres to reduce the cost and improve the speed and accuracy of updating information.

Community Information Centres are non-profit organizations which provide information to the public on community and government services. The centres maintain information on 3,000 organizations in the local community and the information changes at a rate of 60% per year.

Many community information centres have already developed automated systems, but ACICO plans to help the remaining centres to automate and link all the systems together into an Ontario-wide network.

The Pilot Project will continue until December 31, 1988.

The staff of the Haliburton County Information Centre are now in the early stages of automating and upon completion are looking forward to being able to expand the present quality and efficient service now available to the residents of Haliburton County.

For information or if you require help with an application, visit the centre located in the Drag River Municipal Building, Maple Ave., Haliburton, open Monday - Friday 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. or call 457-2733.

If you are in the Minden area, the centre situated in the Municipal Building, Milne St. is open every Tuesday 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. or you may call 286-4100.

drives, and hope to see you at the Christmas concert. Stay tuned for more information.

The Drama Club is in its final week of planning before the big show - "A Cabaret of Talent", which will be happening in the girl's gym (auditorium) on December 3, at 8:00. If you would like to see a great variety show, come on out that night! Admission is $3 for adults, and $1 for students and seniors.

Monday, November 30, 1987

For all student drivers, a warning on road conditions this winter - drive safely and carefully, and take the advice of SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) - Please! Don't Drink and Drive.

One last point - we hope that our exchange students, Phil Johnston (Finland) and Tyna Hie (Australia) are having a wonderful time in their homes far away.

See you next week.
